OUR LONDON LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) .

FIERT STREET, January 21rd. THE TASHING OF THE SKATERS' HOPES. If you came to England just now-there is scarcely a house in which you would not find at least one sorrowing inmate. The reason is an old one-the English climate. Last week set in with a frost unequalled in its intensity: for many years. Every morning thousands of enthusiasts looked out of their bedrooms and cried in glee, "The frost holds," There was furbishing of old skates and buying of new. ones. Report from the country of excellent sport whetted the Londoner to a frenzy of expectancy. Some did succeed in having-agood time near London, but it was Saturday before the lakes in the London Parks were 'declared open' And then? Why the weather office sent out another sample of a softer material, and by the evening a thaw that could be felt set in. Fog, of the real " London particular" type, has held sway ever since. Hence these tears! The appointment of Admiral Sir E. H. Seymour as Commander-in-Chief at Devonport, in succession to Admiral. Lord Charles Scott, has doubtless been announced to you. He takes up his duties in March. This week he is viewing the ground in company with First Paymaster Alton, who was his secretary on the China station.

Sir Eanest Salow has had several lengthy. interviews at the Foreign Office with the chief officials. He spent the week-end at Sandringham, and on Saturday was invested with the insignia of a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

The King and Queen returned to town early in the week. One of the first things they did was to receive the Duc and Duckess of Orleans, who were "sent to Coventry" a year or two ago for favouring a French artist who drew some fil by caricatures of the late Queen. Since then the Duc has made many attempts to recover his lost ground, and it may be taken that the kindly King has forgiven him. The reconciliation comes as somewhat of a surprise nevertheless. I saw the sketches which gave offence, and nothing short of boiling oil, in my opinion, should have been meted out to the artist'and those who gave him encouragement. The "pictures" had not a grain of humour, and they were coarse to the point of bestrality. Even the least squeamish persons condemned them without stint.

London has lost a good citizen in the late! Mr. Quinton Hogg, founder of the Polytechnic in Regent Street. All över the world -I know! of some in the Far East-there are men who knew and respected him. Thousands havel made the Polytechnic a rendezvous. He made his money in the West Indies and then from small beginnings built up this great work of philantrophy. The circumstances of his death were unusual. He went for his usual bath in the institution on Saturday morning and later was found dead in the bath by a servant The gas stove in the room had been burning all night and had no ventilating shaft; and the medical evidence is to the effect that he was overcome by the fumes and heat. The geyser which heated the bath was also alight when the servant made the discovery, and the body of the deceased gentleman was terribly scalded. On Wednesday there was

A MAJESTIC FUNERAL. Our American cousins are so fond of roaring about their greatners, and so prone to give a ready and uncritical ear to the flattering reports. of the American officials abroad that it is something of a new experience to come across a discriminating critic. The Washington Bureau of Statistics issued figures to show the value of. the Philippine, occupation to American trade with China. These statistics the Ballimore they cannot be recognised. News has submitted to a careful analysis. The official figures pointed out that the annual trade rose between 1895 and 190: from five to twenty-three and a half million taels. The suspicions of the Baltimore paper were aroused by the choice of 1895, as the date of comparison. It found: that the trade with China that year was exceptionally small, being very much less than even in 1886 and 1891. It was only half ONSIGNEES of CARGO per Steamship as much as in 1896, and one-third as much as in .1897. In fact, of the gain of 350 per cent since: 1895, 230 per cent had taken place before America had anything to do with the Philip in their Bills of Lading for countersignature pines. Not only that, but in the four years and to take immediate delivery of their Goods from June 30th, 1897, to June 30th, 11901, from alongside. Conservatives in the country- that Mr.-Chamberlain would do something spectacular to recover the faith of the electors who are ruffled by the Education Bill and the Corn Tax. There is now a sumour affeat so thoroughly Chamberlainesque that I give it with some shadow of belief. It is that he will devote the £30,000,000 which is to be contributed to the Imperial Exchequer by the Rand magnates to a scheme of Old Age Pensions for England. Is not this thoroughly like Joseph? Though the story is but a rumour I should not be surprised to see it come true. Hey Presto! Round come the votes of wavering Labour once more.

A correspondent in Armagh sends me a story which is not without its humour. It is quite true. Mr. Michael Davitt last August unveiled. a memorial erected by Armagh Nationalists to Hugh Carberry, an Armagh man alleged to have been killed while fighting for the Boers at Modderspruit. A letter has now been received in Armagh from Pretoria stating that Carberry is alive. He also writes to request that the memorial may be sold and the money realised forwarded to him for he can do with it very well out there. To do the Nationalists justice. the humour of the situation is not lost on them.

A journalist of wide repute has just died in New York in the person of Mr. Julian Ralph He contracted internal complications including dropsy, ulceration of the stomach, and enlargement of the liver, as a result of the hardships experienced as the Daily Mail correspondent in the South African war. He was years ago, known as "the best reporter in New York." That was while he was on the New York Sun. Since then he has held many appoint ments, including that of London correspondent of the New York Journal. He travelled for Harper's Magazine for a time, and I think it was while in that capacity that he wrote a book called . .

"ALONE IN CHINA." Several books came from his pen in connection with wars, for he was a correspondent in the China-Japanese, the Hispano-American, the Greco-Turkish, and the South African conflicts. He was a genial fellow and newspaper men and others in many lands feel a loss now he is gone.

There is trouble in the 1st Battalion of the Brigade of Guards of so serious a kind that it is now said to be engaging the attention of the king. It began with a quarrel among the subalterns, in which Lord Douro, son of the Duke of Wellington, felt himself deeply aggrieved. His father took his son's side and appealed to Lord Roberts, who in his inquiries absolutely ignored the commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. Kinloch. This officer did admirable work at the Cape, is a C. B, and M. V. O., and is generally regarded as an excellent man. He regards the action of the Duke and Lord Roberts as a serious breach of military etiquette, for as head of the regiment he should have been consulted. His officers, with whom he is very popular, are backing him enthusiastically. So far as I can learn Army circles are strongly in sympathy with Col. Kinloch.

The trial of Col. Lynch of the Boer-Irish Brigade for high treason has excited much interest. He has been lying in jail many hour. As you will be receiving reports of the hearing

Mr. Balfour is rapidly recovering his health

Empress of Japan, as nautical assessor, at the Supreme Court this morning. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., (instructed by Mr. Beavis, of Messrs. occurred about 8 p.m. on the 14th January last, just clear of the Hongkong end of the Capsuimun Pass, and to the S. E. of it. A light N.W. wind was blowing, and clouds obscured the m on, but it was clear on the water. The tide was three quarters flood, running about three miles an hour towards the Capsuimun Pass. The Yee Fung was steering from the Hongkong end of the Capsuimun Pass in the direction of Green Island, and was proceeding with a fair wind, but making little headway against the tide. A light Mr. H. P. White having resigned from was exhibited on a piece of iron at the foremast head. When the other ship was first seen, some three miles off, all three lights were visible. No measures were taken by the junk to avoid collision, owing to the very short interval which elapsed between the time when risk of collision occurred and the time of collisien. The bow of the Hansa struck the Yee Fung on the port side a little aft of amidships. The plaintiff attributed faults to the Hansa as follows:-Not keeping out of the way of the Yee Fung and improperly starboarding her unanimously. helm when quite close to the Yee Fung.

The defendants state that the collision occurred at about a quarter past eight near the Capsulmun Pass on the Hoogkong side, from a quarter to half a mile from the small island 8, of Mah Wan Island. There was a light breeze blowing, from about N.N.W., the moon had shortly risen, and it was cloudy but clear. When those on the Hansa observed this, the engines were put full spand astern and the helm hard abort. .. The stem of the steamer struck the port side of the fink amidships. ANNUAL MEETING,

.Shareholders in the Hongkong Fire Insurance Co., Ld., held their thirty-fourth ordinary annual meeting at the offices of the Company, Pedder's Street, at noon to-day. There were present the Hon. C. W. Dickson (Chairman), Hon. Sir C.P. Chater, C.M.G., Messrs. J.H. Lewis, THE N.Y.K. steamer Kinshui Muru, which ar. F. Maitland and A. L. Raymond (consulting committee), and Messrs. Geo. L. Anderson, and Mr. E. C. Emmett (secretary).

After the notice convening the meeting had been read, . The Chairman said :-- Gentlemen, the report and statement, of accounts now submitted propose, if you will permit me, to take as read It is a matter of regret to the General Managers and the Consulting Committee that the promise of a year ago in respect to the 1901 a/c. has not been realized, but unfortunately heavy losses were subsequently sustained notably in this Colony, Amoy and Colombo, the total claims paid amounting since the commencement of 1902 to no less than $135,000. We have not been alone in this unfortunate experience, but this does not lessen our disappointment The net result is a balance available for division of $199,315.46, and trust that the appropriation of this sum in the manner suggested in the report will commend itself to you. The addi tion of approximately 10% of the year's profits to reserve will increase that fund to $1,154,891.96; a substantial amount it is true but one which you will, I am sure, agree with me it is desirable to take every opportunity of adding to Turning to the 1902 a/c. you will observe that the balance at credit on 31st. December last was $199,299.15 or about $34,000 less than the 1901 a/c. at a corresponding period, but I should explain that the former has been already charged with its proportion of the serious losses which I have already referred to us having fallen partly upon 1901, and although further losses have been sustained during the current year I may be allowed to express the hope that we may be fortunate enough not to have a repetition of our last year's experience and that the final result of the account may allow of a larger dividend him it is now proposed to pay. I should add that the customary valuation of properties mortgaged to the Company have been made and that in every case there is ample margin on the sums advanced. You are aware that fire insurance rates in Hongkong have recently been increased by 25% This has been done under instructions issued by the Fire Offices' Committee, London, (towhich our Company is affiliated) upon the grounds that the water supply of the Colony is inadequate and the fire extinguishing appliances insufficient. I do not myself consider that such an increase applied indiscriminately is called for by existing local conditions, and representations which have been made will, it is to be hoped, induce reconsideration of the question. Already a considerable amount of business has been lost owing to the increase, many large property owners preferring to carry risks themselves rather than pay the higher rates demanded, The plaintiff contended that the collision and it seems obvious that arbitrary action which leads to such a result cannot b beneficial to Fire Insurance Companies in the long run. Before moving the adoption of the report and accounts I shall be pleased to answer

> THE DIRECTORY AND CHRONICLE.

"The Directory and Chronicle for China Japan, Straits Settlements, Indo-China, Philippines, &c., for 1903" has reached us from the offices of the publishers, the Hongkong Daily Press. It has reached its forty-first year of publication, and contains many new features of interest to all residents in the Orient. The corrections have been brought well up to date, and the volume should prove of the greatest benefit in every office. As usual the work contains coloured plans and maps, with a frontispiece bearing the various houseflags of local steamship companies, also copies of treaties, and codes with a vast amount of useful general information in addition to descriptions and statistics of most of the principal towns of the Orient. Not the least noteworthy feature of the publication is the illustrated advertisements creditably printed and adding a distinct charm to a hard used volume that is eagerly awaited at the opening of another year. This year's Directory and Chronicle is a credit to the publishers.

LOCAL CURRENCY.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND THE COVERNMENT.

We have received a copy of the following letter which has been forwarded by the Hongthe Colonial Secretary :--

Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce,

Hongkong, 28th February, 1903. Sir,—I am directed to inform you for the Information of His Excellency the Governor, that in November last the Singapore Chamber of Commerce addressed this Chamber, drawing attention to the steps taken by that Chamber with the object of investigating and considering the possibility of arriving at some method by silver in Singapore and the Straits Settlements might be solved, and asking for this Chamber's views as to the advisability of taking any action in the same direction with regard to the currency for Hongkong. At a meeting of the Committee speciall called to discuss this matter, held on 23rd December last, it was decided to reply that, although they greatly appreciated the friendly desire for joint action, the Committee regretted that by reason of the very different position to see their way, whilst China still retains silver currency, to take any steps which might tend to lead the Government to adopt another standard.

Since the expression of opinion by the Committee, a requisition from five members was received calling for a special general meeting of the members of the Chamber for the purpose of discussing the question of local currency and this meeting of members was held on th 18th instant, when the following resolution was carried by a majority:-

"That in the opinion of this! Meeting it desirable the Straits Currency Commission should extend its inquiries to Hongkong with a view to ascertaining whether reform of the Colony's currency arrangements is advisable." In this connection, I enclose copies of the

The Government floating engine and members of the Fire Brigade were at once despatched to the vessel, but on arriving were informed that their services were not required, as the fire was not a serious one. ·A big seizure of opium was made by the police at Kowloon City yesterday, no less than 25 taels prepared, 132 taels dross, and 32 taels raw opium being taken. The opium was done up neatly in packets, and at a casual glance appeared to be ordinary Chinese cakes. This morning before Mr. F. A. Hazeland, the two coolies who were found with the opium in their possession were each fined $500, or three months' hard labour. They elected to go to gaol From letters found on them, it-appeared that they were commissioned by some Chinaman in Kowloon to take the opium to a Chinese firm in this Colony.

CRICKET.

SATURDAY'S CLUB MATCH.

Over 29 versus Under 29, was Saturday's cricket match. Only sixteen Club-men were available, while outside players numbered but four, the game, therefore, was a ten-a-side one. The Old hands won the toss, but were put out for an inglorious total of 146; A. R. Lowe heading the list with 44 runs Two the Youngsters showed better form, A. d'A. Punnett, R.N., making four over his century, and R. H. Carter, R.N., seven over a halfhundred. The total was 228 runs.

CRAIGENGOWERS V. DIOCESAN SCHOOL. The Craigengowers had a very soft game on last Saturday when they contested with past and present pupils of the Diocesan School, and scored an easy victory by 5 wickets and 126 runs. Seven out of the school eleven did not break their proverbial 'egg,' while the other four knocked up only 24. Of the Craigengowers, L. E. Lammert made 73, L. A. Rose 24, and lordan 23. C. E. Hastings gained field honours on the school side, and R. Pestonji was well to the fore with the Craigengowers. A. O. C. v. R. A. M. C.

In this match, the teams were unevenly matched, the Medicals being far too strong for their antagonists. Staff-Sergt. Wilson made 53, Pte. Wooley 26, and Lieut. Harvey 25, for the R. A. M. C. None of the A. O. C. scored over 13, their total being only 62 against 127 for five of the R. A. M. C. wicke's. Out of these five Pte. Bradford was responsible for three; Ptc. Williams, and Ptc. Cook, each polished poro on Baturday, at 6 p.m.; and may be expectoff five of the A. O. C.'s.

COTTAM & CO., FOR SUN HATS,

AT THE THEATRE.

One of the most successful productions from the pen of Henry Arthur Jones has gained

popularity because of its many striking scenes and powerful passages. Mrs. Dane's Defence is extremely fascinating and discreetly truthtelling and, as such, was produced for the first time in Hongkong at the Theatre Royal on Saturday evening. It is one of those pieces with which the Brough Company know how to deal, and it was not surprising, therefore, to find a large audience unanimous in its praise. The play opens with a view of Lady Eastney's kong General Chamber of Commerce to the drawing room at Sunningwater, in which Mr. and Mrs. Bulsom-Porter are discussing the merits and demerits of a certain fascinating Mrs. Dane. Mrs. Bulsom-Porter warns her then-pecked husband that if he continues to pay marked attention to the woman she should tell the whole neighbourhood her history. Her nephew, Mr. James Risby, interrupts the con-versation and tells his aunt the story of a woman known as Miss Hindemarsh, explaining that she had been a governess in the service of Mr. and Mrs. Trent, and while at Viennathe wife discovers a haison between her husband an the young lady. He is perfectly cerwhich the fixing of exchange between gold and tain, however, that the young governess is not Mrs. Dane. Nevertheless, Mrs. Bulsom-Porter continues to circulate the story, with the result that Lionel Carteret, the adopted son of Sir Daniel Carteret, an eminent judge, who has been accepted by Mrs. Dane, is considerably embarrassed, though he firmly believes in the emphatic denial given by his lover to the story circulated. By the second act Mrs. Bulsom-Porter has secured the services of Fendick, an eminent private detective, who goes to Vienna and obtains conclusive evidence that Mrs. Dane is Miss Ilindemarsh. But Mrs. Dane exerts her influence over him, and he takes the case up on her behalf. The third act, which is occupied by the two Colonies, they were unable | always quoted in London as the masterpiece of the author's works, brings matter to a crisis, and Mrs. Dane confesses all when put to a severe cross-examination by Sir Daniel. She agrees to leave the house, sacrifices Lionel, destroys an apology that Mrs. Bulsom-Porter tenders before being aware of the true facts of the case and retires to North Devon to_____ live with her child. It is indeed a great play and one that should bring even more prominently before the public the name of the popular author of so many attractive works. Mr. Brough is admirably suited to the title rôle. She has a sweet voice, is graceful in her movements and throws the whole force of her character into the difficult parts which, if a little strained, would be completely lost in its effect. Mr. Brough makes a dignified and searching Sir Daniel, and Miss Susie Vaughan is capital as Mrs. Bulsom-Porter the circulator of all society gossip of a ruinous character. Mr. Ernest Vere interpreted the character of Lionel Carleret with considerable effect bringing heart and soul to bear on the impersonation. Miss Temple-was, of course, 1-Published minutes of Committee meeting | all that could be des'red as Lady Eastney, and Miss Brenda Gibson gave a pretty rendering of the part of Jinet Colquhoun, the filted lover of Lionel Canon Bonsey, who by the way appeared lost in his clerical garb, was taken by Mr. McIntyre, Mr. Bulsom Porter by Mr.

Leslie Victor, Mr. James Risbey by Mr. W. T. Lovell, and Fendick, by Mr. Orlando Daly. The full caste is as follows:-Sir Daniel (Mr. Justice) Carteret Mr. Brough. Lionel Carteret (his adopted Son). Mr. Ernest Vere.

The play will be repeated this evening, and to-movrow night the Company will present Pinero's farcical comedy The Magistrate. "THE MAGISTRATE," Mr. Brough announces two performances of Pinero's famous farce The Magistrate to-morrow and on Wednesday nights. We understand that the comedy has never been played here by a professional company so that our amateurs will have an opportunity of "comparing notes" with the performance of our visitors. Certainly nothing more amusing was ever staged than The Magistrate and the Brough Co. are said to be admirably suited all round. On Thursday and Friday Sowing the Wind will be the attraction, and on Saturday next When we were Twenty-one, will be staged in place of The Lians, which latter work will be seen later on.

When we were Twenty-in: comes with B great reputation, and was an enormous success in both America and London with Mr. Nat Goodwin and Miss Maxine Elliott in the principal parts. The Box office at Robinson's is now open six days in advance, (N. C. D. News). Mr. Brodrick's Army Reform Scheme.

London, 24th February. A vigorous attack is being made in the House of Commons on Mr. Brodrick's Army Scheme, directed by Unionst members. Mr. E. W Beckett (Conservative), M.P. for Whithy, a member of the War Office Organisation Committee, 1901, proposed an amendment to the Address, which regretted that the proposed organisation of the army is unsuited to the needs of the empire, and added that no proportionate gain in strength and efficiency had resulted from the recent increased expenditure He said that the Army Corps Scheme blocked the way to rational reform, and must be swept away. Major J. E. B. Seely (Conservative), M.P. for the Isle of Wight, said that the scheme if persisted in would entail national disaster. He urged that greater reliance should be placed on our citizen army, Several Conservatives spoke in support of the amendment.
